

SR. PRODUCT DESIGNER

A revolutionary leader in the juvenile products industry, Boon, Inc specializes in designing innovative solutions for modern parents. We're not corporate, but we do mean business. We consider ourselves to be a group of fun, friendly, solution driven people and strive to create products that echo these attributes. We achieve this goal by focusing every aspect of our company around innovative, truthful, and customer-centric company processes.

Not your average in-house design team. Boon is structured more like a design firm with a focus on baby and kid products. We have fun with each product - the development phase is playtime at Boon. We don't limit ourselves- our product line is extensive and you will not get bored here! We work with many types of materials, and frequently do what hasn't been done before. Our goal is to create brilliant products with the most simple, clean forms. Less is more at Boon!
