

Hot high chairs

These super seats made moms across the country (almost) look forward to mealtime

by Meredith Bodgas Photographs by Ned Matura

Win it! Have a seat! Twenty lucky readers will each win one of these high chairs (value: $120 to $230). Just go to Parenting.com/giveaways to enter and for official rules. See page 114 for more info.

In living color

Fisher-Price's Zen Collection High Chair features sophisticated lime and chocolate-brown accents. And with three height and three recline options, you can find the perfect position for your child. ($180 to $200; fisher-price.com) "The cushion's easy to clean, but it still looks great! The wheels let me roll the chair somewhere else when I need to clean underneath it." —Melissa Sullivan, mom of Quinn, 4, and Murphy, 8 months, Alpharetta, GA

Smooth operator

The barbershop-seat design of Boon's Flair Pedestal High Chair not only looks cool, but it also makes the chair's height a cinch to change—just step on the button at the base. Cleaning's simple, too, since crumbs can't get stuck in the seamless foam seat. ($230; booninc.com) "I love that I can adjust the seat height and push the entire chair under the table so it doesn't get in the way!" —Jodi Nieuwstadt, mom of Cooper, 1, Canton, MI

So fresh, so clean

Spills slide right off the stain-resistant seat pad on Graco's Classic Wood High Chair. The clear, dishwasher-safe tray insert protects the gorgeous wood finish, and since the tray's removable, you can slide your kid up to the table when he's ready. ($130; gracobaby.com) "It's a lovely piece of furniture—not a plastic germ catcher! The tray sits high and tight for less mess." —Amy Polacheck, mom of Zoe, 7, Ethan, 6, and Gabriel, 8 months, Cuyahoga Falls, OH

Spick-and-span

The seat on Kolcraft's Contours Perfect Fit High Chair is seam-free, and there's a removable compartment underneath that you can swipe crumbs into and dump out. Plus, with its adjustable seat back, tray, and footrest, your kid will be very comfy. ($120; kolcraft.com) "Most high chairs are a pain to clean, but this one's completely spotless with just one wipe." —Patty Onderko, mom of Theo and Nate, 10 months, Brooklyn